

Clickky's Ultimate Black Friday Bundle of Deals Becomes One of the Products of the Day on Product Hunt

The collection of deals and offers from the services for mobile marketers, app developers and website owners brought together by Clickky was welcomed by the Product Hunt community.

NEW YORK, November 27, 2017 (Newswire.com) - Clickky, a full-stack platform for mobile advertisers and publishers, released the Ultimate Bundle of Black Friday deals on services for mobile marketers, app developers and website owners on Nov. 24. The collection of offers was featured on the first page of product discovery platform Product Hunt, becoming the #5 product of the day.

More than 50 companies have shared their one-time offers and special deals for the Bundle, contributing to the most comprehensive list of discounts in the industry. The Bundle attracted the attention of the Product Hunt community, reaching 281 upvotes over the weekend.

The Ultimate Black Friday Bundle is a collection of offers from essential tools for app developers, mobile and digital marketers, and website owners. The Bundle allows getting reduced pricing on a variety of tools, with discounts reaching 75 percent on some of the services. This collection contains discounts on app analytics, testing, localization, app store optimization, promotion and monetization services. There are also offers for digital marketers and website owners (CRM, social media management, SEO-tools, e-commerce solutions). Additionally, the Bundle includes discounts and offers from the top events in the mobile industry: AdTech, ATS London, Israel Mobile Summit, Mobile Beach Conference and many others.

The response of the Product Hunt community shows that the Bundle has been highly anticipated by both established businesses and startups. Learn more about the Ultimate Black Friday Bundle on Product Hunt by following this link.
